The first accident happened shortly after eight o'clock when an automobile carrying four people on their way to work in Cambridge, and a tank truck collided at the corner of Warren and Wyman street.

The first two victims were taken to the hospital in the police ambulance while the others went in a police cruiser car. All were released following treatment.

The auto was being driven by Newgent, while the tank truck was operated by Bernard E. Roach of Stoneham, according to the police.

The second accident occurred late in the afternoon when a car operated by Agnes G. Whitney, of Somerville skidded on the car tracks in front of the Highland fire station and crashed into an elevated pole.

The operator, Arline Bushop, 23, and Rose Impollario, 32, of Somerville, were taken to the hospital in a police car. The auto in which they were riding had to be towed to a garage.

Mass Meeting Opens War Fund Campaign

"We American citizens must prove our unselfishness to our allies, and to those morale-building agencies dependent upon the Greater Boston United War Fund," Charles G. Cabot, general chairman of the War Fund's coming drive told a large group of Arlingtonians at a mass meeting in the senior high school auditorium Tuesday evening.

Mr. Cabot's address followed a thought-provoking talk by Major D. A. Laning, chaplain of the United States Army, who described the emotions experienced by the men in the armed forces as they go into battle for democracy.

Roscoe O. Elliott, chairman of the Arlington drive, which will open simultaneously with the Greater Boston campaign on January 21, presided and introduced Mrs. William A. Muller, Rev. Robert Hatch, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Harold A. Cahalan presi-

Sunday Drivers Keep "Clear" of Arlington

Arlington auxiliary police unknowingly kept pleasure drivers out of Arlington Sunday afternoon. Called out by a general mobilization order shortly before 3 o'clock, 250 auxiliary police officers went to their posts, some of them at all main highways entering the town.

Motorists approaching Arlington, as well as local citizens, who were tempted to take out their cars, readily spotted the auxiliary officers with their familiar arm bands. Their immediate conclusion was that the civilian defense officers were out to stop and question all motorists on the road. Some who did venture through the town went to the trouble of stopping and telling the auxiliary officers why they were out. One officer was told by no less than six drivers that they were on their way to the hospital.

Lieutenant Daniel P. Barry, auxiliary police coordinator, accompanied by a State Registry of Motor vehicles inspector, driving around during the mobilization period, reported that he observed quite a few cars on the Concord turnpike, none of which appeared to be moving faster than ten miles an hour, as their drivers timidly proceeded after spotting the auxiliary police officers on duty.

Actually, the auxiliary police officers were not out to stop cars at all. The mobilization was for the purpose of acquainting the men with the layout of property, particularly public buildings on their posts. They had nothing to do with the OPA.

Ration Notes

Renewals for supplementary gasoline rations will be due January 21 for those who need and are entitled to extra gas. These motorists are asked to call at the local Rationing Board office and make out their applications. No notice will be sent out by the rationing board.

The dates for tire inspection have been delayed. "A" card holders will have until March 31 while B and C card holders must have their tires inspected by Feb. 28.

Firemen Extinguish Two Fires In One Run

When firemen responded to an alarm Sunday afternoon, they killed two birds with one stone. First, they extinguished a fire in a shed at the rear of 23 Park street. Within a few minutes, a major blaze at the rear of the garage at 58 Rawson road was put out.

Town Moderator And Former Representative Take Out Nomination Papers—Selectman Ernest W. Davis Candidate For Moderator—Contests For Assessor And Park Commissioner Assured

That one of the most interesting town elections on record will take place March 1 was indicated this week when several prominent citizens took out nomination papers for various town offices.

Two candidates are already in the field for election to the board of selectmen. They are Elliott R. Barker, of 28 Lombard rd. and Attorney William F. Davis, of 108 Hutchinson road.

Selectman Ernest W. Davis, who is completing his ninth year on that board, will not seek re-election but will be a candidate for moderator. Selectman Davis, chairman of the board, has also served as chairman of the finance committee. Mr. Davis is electrical engineer at the Simplex Wire company, in Cambridge.

With Selectman Davis' retirement as selectman, several candidates may throw their hats into the ring before the deadline for filing nomination papers comes. Several names have been mentioned to date, but up to yesterday only two candidates had taken out papers.

Mr. Barker established residence in Arlington in 1907 and has been well-known as a chemical engineer and business executive. He was graduated from M. I. T. in 1898. Up until ten years ago, he held several public offices. He was town meeting member from 1921 to 1932, and served on the school committee during that time.

He was Representative in the State legislature from 1927 to 1930. He also served as president of the Arlington Board of Trade.

As chairman of the committee on additional school accommodations, from 1922 to 1932, Mr. Barker took an active interest in the building of the Peirce school, the Parmenter school, the Hardy school and Junior High East as well as the addition to the Cutter school and, later the Peirce school. He was also member

Store Fire Threatens Boys' Club Building

The Arlington Boys' club headquarters on Swan place, in Arlington Center, was threatened early Friday evening when a spectacular fire broke out in the Regent Dress shop, at 474 Massachusetts avenue.

The dress shop backs up to the Boys' club building, and sheets of flame pouring out of a window at the rear of the shop lapped at the boys' clubhouse soon after the blaze was discovered. The few boys in the clubhouse at the time, during supper hour, were able to leave without difficulty.

An alarm was sounded from Box 31, bringing several pieces of fire apparatus from the nearby Central fire station to the scene.

Before firemen could lay their hose lines, flames were shooting skywards through the roof of the shop. Most of the fire was confined to the rear of the shop, but firemen were forced to rip a considerable part of the ceiling and walls before the stubborn blaze was completely extinguished. Their work prevented the fire from spreading to adjoining stores in the business block.

Sergeant Thomas F. Meagher was in charge of the police detail at the scene.

The dress shop, owned by Sadie A. Nexon of Brookline, will be reopened following alterations.

Other Fires

Early Tuesday morning, Box 464 was sounded for a fire at the home of Robert Salisbury, 30 Brantwood road.

Late Monday afternoon, Box 683, was sounded for a fire in a rubbish barrel at the home of William J. Kolb, 156 Robbins road.

Earlier in the afternoon firemen responded to an alarm from Box 137 for a fire in the apartment of Patrick Agostine, at 120 Broadway.

Arlington Gas Light Co., Withdraws Plan For Change In Rates

The state department of public utilities notified the board of selectmen this week that its investigation of the proposed new Arlington Gas Light company rates had been discontinued following a request from the local company seeking withdrawal of the schedule of rates and charges.

Operation of the proposed rates had been suspended until April 1, 1943. The Arlington Gas Light company's action will cause its rates to remain unchanged for the time being.

Thank You!

We appreciate the kindness and cooperation of our many customers during the period we were closed on Sat., Mon. and Tues. Due to the fire in our block the heating system was in such a condition that we did not deem it advisable to subject our friends to unnecessary exposure.

OUR TWO GREAT DRIVES

Since the annual Greater Boston United War Fund drive is now under way, it might be well to point out that the American Red Cross is not included in this drive. This fact has been made clear by the United War Fund officials so that there may be no misunderstanding.

The Greater Boston United War Fund drive will last through mid-February. On the other hand, the Red Cross War Fund will open March 1 and continue through that month. In Arlington, the latter drive will be under the direction of Mrs. Carroll H. Beers.

"There are excellent reasons for holding two separate drives," the Boston Herald points out in a recent editorial. "Foremost is the fact that the American Red Cross is a great national organization which must maintain its national unity and identity. This might be impossible if local Red Cross chapters throughout the country were to combine with their local Community Chests and operate from September to March. Such an arrangement would present many practical difficulties to a successful nationwide Red Cross drive.

"Furthermore, the Red Cross and the various Community Chests are different kinds of organizations, despite many similarities. The major difference is that, although the Red Cross program of service extends to local communities, its primary responsibility during war is to the armed forces of the nation. The Community Chests also contribute to our armed forces but are essentially organizations for service to their particular communities.

"The question of a combined appeal has been thoroughly investigated by competent authorities. They have agreed unanimously that independent drives are preferable for both organizations.

"The fact that there will be two drives instead of one should not dampen the generous response of this community to the two organizations. Each has its specific functions. Each is indispensable. You should give to both as never before."

Scout Council Meeting

give a book review. Hostesses will be Mrs. George K. Sauerwein and Mrs. Whitfield Johnson.

Scout executive Phil Johnson will be among those reporting on the Council's activities during the business meeting. Sachem Council includes 53 troops, 20 cub packs and three sea scout ships, and serves eight Middlesex county communities. It operates a council camp at Antrim, N. H., and a troop camp at Bedford. Scout activities related to the war effort will be given special attention at the business meeting.

Craig Gustafson, clever magician and a former scout, will entertain following the banquet. Special awards will be made, and Dr. Lichter will speak at the close of the banquet in the evening.

Assisting Mr. Johnson in arranging the program are: Charles R. Voight, of Concord; Andrew J. Ring, also of Concord; Rev. Harold T. Handley, of Lexington; Rev. Joseph P. Donelon, of Arlington; Cedric G. Chase, of Watertown; and Seth T. Gano, of Belmont. Herman Miller, of Belmont, is in charge of decorations, seating, etc.; Harold B. Dalton, of Belmont, exhibits; and Ernie Sawyer, of the afternoon discussion group.

Sachem Council is an agency affiliated with the Greater Boston United War Fund.

DR. ROSS TO LECTURE

Chester R. Whitman co-ordinator of the Medical Unit of the Arlington Committee on Public Safety, announces that a course on chemical warfare will start January 25 at 8 o'clock in Room 14 of the senior high school, old building. Dr. Paul F. Ross will lecture.

The NEWS OBSERVES

Sliced bread from your baker will be another war casualty after this week. Starting next Monday, it will be "sliced your own" as Food Distribution Order No. 1, signed by the Secretary of Agriculture, goes into effect. There will be fewer varieties, too. General objective is to prevent rise in price of bread, and for more economical distribution of bread under wartime conditions.

The sale of war savings bonds and stamps in Arlington schools started off unusually well the first week of the New Year. Records at the office of the superintendent of schools show that local school pupils purchased $5,153.15 worth of bonds and stamps last week. Junior High West had the best record for bonds purchased during the week, its total being $563.

A daughter, Sandra Frances was born January 6 at the Central Hospital, Somerville, to Mr. and Mrs. John I. Clark, of Arlington. Mrs. Clark is the former Margaret Ryan. Mr. Clark is now in the signal corps, stationed at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

The Arlington Florence Crittenden League will hold an open meeting next Wednesday, at 2:30 p. m., in the Unitarian Church. The guest speaker will be Deane Moores, executive secretary of the Arlington Boys' Club.

The sale of war savings stamps and bonds at the special booth in Arlington Center totaled $4,175 last week, according to Mrs. Terry Shuman, chairman of the women's division of the Arlington War Savings committee. Of this amount, $4,000 worth of Series G bonds were purchased by the Women's Club.

Candidates For Office

of the Police Headquarters building committee.

Davis Former Moderator

Attorney William P. Davis, on the other hand, has served for the past three years as moderator, succeeding Attorney Albert W. Wunderly in this office. Mr. Davis was graduated from Arlington high school in 1927 and from Boston University college of liberal arts in 1931. Two years later he was graduated Cum Laude from Boston University law school. At B. U. Mr. Davis served as president of his class, was prominent on the debating team and won the distinction of being selected B. U.'s "Man of the Year."

After being admitted to the Bar, Moderator Davis entered a prominent Boston law firm. He became general counsel for the United Drug company in 1935. Two years later he was elected secretary of the company. In 1938, became its vice president. In 1941, Attorney Davis was elected executive vice president and director of the United Drug company. He is a trustee of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital. Besides serving as moderator, Mr. Davis has been a town meeting member for six years and has served on the special committee which a few years ago, revised the by-laws of the finance committee.

Marsh a Candidate

Loren W. Marsh, chairman of the public works board, will be a candidate for another three-year term on this board.

For assessor, William O. Hauser, chairman of the board, will be opposed by Henry R. DeForest, of 372 Mystic street, both having taken out nomination papers. The latter sought the same office last March.

Mrs. Therese N. Turner, of 130 Jason street and Joseph J. Bevins, of 127 Scituate street have already taken out papers for the school committee, their term expiring this year.

Herbert M. Dutcher, of Walnut street and Serop B. Basmajian, of Winter street, will seek re-election to the planning board.

John S. Crosby of Mystic street will be a candidate for re-election to the board of health.

With the resignation of Park Commissioner Daniel M. Hooley, an election for the two-year remaining of his term will take place. Two candidates have already taken out papers. They are: Everett J. Hutchinson, of 37 Grandview road, and Joseph C. Mahoney, of 56 Exeter street. No one had taken out papers for the three-year term on this board up to yesterday.

George N. Dolan of Mystic street will seek re-election as tree warden, the term being for one year. Other town officers whose terms are expiring this year have already taken out nomination papers.

Unlike other recent elections which have failed to arouse much interest, this year's election promises to bring out a record number of candidates judging from the number of papers already taken out.

Locals Take Lead Alone

Arlington High's hockey sextet regained sole possession of top place in the Greater Boston Hockey league Saturday afternoon when it defeated Stoneham, 2 to 1, thereby breaking the triple tie for first place. Melrose went into second place.

With Arlington short-handed, Doherty of Stoneham put that team in the lead at 2m.58s. of the second period. But less than three minutes later Arlington's Joe Preston soloed to shoot one into the nets to tie the score. This was his first game of the season.

In the last minute of the period, a Stoneham player tried to clear the puck from behind his own goal, and shot the rubber to a point in front of the nets. Instead, Bob Byrnes was on the job for Arlington and smacked the puck against the strings for the winning tally.

OUR TWO GREAT DRIVES

Since the annual Greater Boston United War Fund drive is now under way, it might be well to point out that the American Red Cross is not included in this drive. This fact has been made clear by the United War Fund officials so that there may be no misunderstanding.

The Greater Boston United War Fund drive will last through mid-February. On the other hand, the Red Cross War Fund will open March 1 and continue through that month. In Arlington, the latter drive will be under the direction of Mrs. Carroll H. Beers.

"There are excellent reasons for holding two separate drives," the Boston Herald points out in a recent editorial. "Foremost is the fact that the American Red Cross is a great national organization which must maintain its national unity and identity. This might be impossible if local Red Cross chapters throughout the country were to combine with their local Community Chests and operate from September to March. Such an arrangement would present many practical difficulties to a successful nationwide Red Cross drive.

"Furthermore, the Red Cross and the various Community Chests are different kinds of organizations, despite many similarities. The major difference is that, although the Red Cross program of service extends to local communities, its primary responsibility during war is to the armed forces of the nation. The Community Chests also contribute to our armed forces but are essentially organizations for service to their particular communities.

"The question of a combined appeal has been thoroughly investigated by competent authorities. They have agreed unanimously that independent drives are preferable for both organizations.

"The fact that there will be two drives instead of one should not dampen the generous response of this community to the two organizations. Each has its specific functions. Each is indispensable. You should give to both as never before."

Dalton, of Belmont, exhibits; and Ernie Sawyer, of the afternoon discussion group.

Thank Woman's Club For Christmas Cheer Brought Servicemen

Thanks have been received from the Army men stationed at Mountain avenue and the boys in Ward 20 at the Port Devens Station hospital for the most generous Christmas cheer provided by the Arlington Woman's club and other local women.

Loaded down with a lighted table tree, wreaths, red candles, all sorts of gifts and good things to eat, Mrs. Oscar Peterson and Mrs. Leroy G. Shaw—neighbors of the Mountain avenue barracks, both of whom have sons of their own overseas, visited the barracks early Christmas morning. Added to the gifts were home-made cookies contributed by Woman's Club members, six new records for the phonograph given the soldiers by Mrs. Gordon Benway, etc.

At the base hospital, Mrs. Kingsbury Ryan and Mrs. Richard Lanley, of the War Service committee, brought individual gifts to each of the 40 men and five nurses of Ward 20. These included Red Cross gifts. Assisted by some patients, the Arlington women decorated the tree. A guitar and ukulele given by Mrs. Charles Surrette were enthusiastically played.

Card of Thanks

The family of the late Albert J. Steinkrauss wishes at this time to thank the Public Works and the Police Department for their kind assistance.

War Fund Drive

purchase of war bonds, and other necessities. However we have no right to be scared. In these days, everything we do should be based on the question, "Will it help win the war; and will it maintain the peace afterwards?" Our goal this year is $100,000 less than last year, despite the fact that some twenty new agencies, from Malden, Weymouth and other communities now in the Greater Boston fund, have been added, plus the United War Nations Relief Fund, the U.S.O. and the War Prisoners' Aid now included in the fund campaign."

Speaking of the United War Nations Relief fund particularly, Mr. Cabot said that all our allies look to America as mythically strong and rich, and that we must do something to prove to them that we are not selfish. Nevertheless, from a selfish point of view, it is vital that we help these allies and encourage them to keep on fighting. Mr. Cabot brought out, bluntly, he said:

"Every German killed by a Russian will be one less to be killed by our American boys; every Jap killed by the Chinese will be one less to be killed by us." If we help our allies now, they will more readily listen to us at the peace table, after we have proved our unselfishness. Mr. Cabot added:

Turning his attention to the 235 hospitals and social agencies operated with funds raised by the United War Fund, the former Devens, Mass., police chief warned against wishful thinking, and stressed the importance of maintaining the morale of these agencies. "If we dropped them, Hitler would feel that our morale was really weakening," Mr. Cabot said. "Therefore it is important that we keep our community strong and healthy by supporting the social agencies which build morale at home."

Mr. Cabot urged his listeners to give up a few luxuries if necessary to properly contribute to the War Fund drive, and warned that this should not be "a dollar campaign." He expressed his gratitude and that of the community to those who have pledged to carry on the work of the Greater Boston War Fund campaign.

Permitted to Use Cars

Volunteer workers will be permitted to use their cars during the War Fund drive, according to an official OPA ruling received by the Arlington committee, since the OPA agrees that it would be impossible to raise the goal set without autos.

Headquarters for the local drive will be at the Girl Scout office in the Old Town Hall.
